

Fire

Thursday 16 November 2017, 4 – 7 pm
Kensington, London

Following the tragic events at Grenfell Tower in June, issues surrounding fire spread in buildings have been at the forefront of everyone's mind.

A full review of the Building Regulations surrounding fire safety is underway, but this will not be a quick process.

In the meantime there is a great deal of uncertainty surrounding the current guidance and what they say in relation to the external wall. The seminar will aim to provide clarity on this and make recommendations where appropriate.

Given the context in which we are doing this, the seminar will primarily focus on rainscreen systems.

Time will be set aside for questions and answers during the seminar. Due to the complex nature of the subject we would like questions submitted beforehand in order to ensure that we are best able to answer them. Please email any questions to cwct@cwct.co.uk by 3 November.

The seminar fee is £40 plus VAT (£80 plus VAT for those not in membership). We have kept the cost as low as possible in order to encourage you and your team to attend and participate in this discussion.
